

South Gloucestershire Clinical Commissioning Group (CCG) and South Glos Parents and Carers (SGPC) are inviting you to express your views on community children's health services

What are children's community health services?

Most children's community health services are currently provided by North Bristol NHS Trust (NBT) in partnership with Barnardo's. Other specialist nursing services are provided by the Lifetime Service (Sirona Care and Health). The CCG commissions the following services:

Why we need your views

The current contracts for these services are due to expire in March 2016 and a formal procurement process will begin in the autumn of 2014. The CCG is asking for the input of service users'.

The engagement sessions

The aim is to make sure that we have the best possible services in place for the people who need them. The CCG would like the new service model and specification to be informed by children, young people and their parents and carers.

The CCG has approached SGPC to help organise three engagement sessions. These sessions will allow the CCG to shape the new model by collecting your views on the health services that support your child/children with additional needs.

Now is the time to have your say and influence the design!
